

We are very proud to offer instruction from extremely qualified teachers. All instructors have had or are undergoing continued education, training and experience within the arenas of arts education, performance or instruction.

Students generally receive primary instruction from a lead instructor. However, if we believe it beneficial to the student, other instructors may step in to offer additional insights and instruction. TIP allows our students to study with more than one source, offering dedication and input with multiple insights. In the end, all instructors become involved with the students learning process either directly or indirectly, to the student's benefit.
